Daring Robbery Near Morgantown The following will appear in the Morgantown Post of to-day :

Several years have elapsed since anything like a highway robbery was perpetrated in this section of country, and it is not to be wondered at that our people were considerably startled on Thursday of is money.

From what we can learn from various

From what we can learn from various sources, we glean the following particulars, though do not vouch for their reliability in every particular:

On Wednesday, 19th inst., as a Mr. Feather, of Preston county was proceeding from Anderson's store (3 miles from town) to Masontown, Preston county, alone in a buggy, over the Fee's Ferry and Tunnelton turnpike, while ascending the mountain road, near Thomas Dunn's (about eight or ten miles from town) he met a man on the road who asked Mr. Feather if he would please let him ride met a man on the road who asked Mr. Feather if he would please let him ride awhile, as he was tired of walking and greatly fatigued. Mr. Feather replied that he could ride, with pleasure, and the man got into the buggy with Mr. Feather.

The vehicle had not proceeded far until the man asked Mr. E. if he, would let him drive awhile, and the recent here.

th the man asked $3.7.F. if he would let him drive awhile, and the request being granted, the two rode on in silence a short distance, when the man, watching his op-portunity, suddenly dealt Mr. Feather a powerful blow with his fist, which knock-ed him out of the buggy to the ground. The blow, however, only stunned Mr. F. to an instant, and he was about to rise. tor an instant, and he was about to rise when the villian jumped from the buggy and picked up a stone to strike him down man, a murderous looking rascal, emerged from the woods, where he had been concealed as an accomplice in this brutal work, and, armed with a huge knife, he rushed upon the defenceless man who had been knocked down, and cut him in a Thus overpowered by superior force

Had he resisted, doubtless the knife would

Mr. F. finally regained strength enough to reach a farm house close by, where he had his wounds dressed and related his thrilling adventure and narrow escape. He was cut about thearm and breast very severely, but not dangerously nal tells this story: "Coming up in the cars, quite an amusing incident occurred. The palace cars needs custom. The common cars are few and crowded, and thos saloon. Several gentlemen stood. A lady took a whole seat to herself, and piled up her baggage on the spot where weary gentlemen would be glad to repose. The lady left her seat for a moment and went to the rear. A gentleman at once went for it—piled the bags on the seat the lady had occupied and sat down. All watched the operation. Soon the All watched the operation. Soon the lady came on with a quick step. She came to a halt, and said: 'Sir, you have my seat.' 'I think not; your luggage is on your seat.' 'I have had the seat all the way from Albany.' 'Yes ma'm, and I have stood all the way from Albany, and intend to ride the rest of the way to Datted.' Rutland.' Not an inch did the woman budge; she held her ground tull ten min-utes. The intruder was quietly reading— the only one in the car that was not absorbed in the affair. The silence was soroed in the anarr. The silence was painful. At Jast the woman gaye way, in a huff she seized her bundles, made for the palace car, and paid for all the room she occupied. Her exit was attended with a short, sharp cheer, and the auditone reserved."

A CORRESPONDENT of the Boston Trar-iller record the two following "smart speeches" of children:

should not encourage antigonism, and should bring all persons to recognize its rule, dealing equally with the national feelings and predjudices of all."

A bright little boy about four years of age, son of a clergyman, was at your correspondent's house one evening with his parents, and I gave him a couple of five cent pieces. He laid them on the table, cent pieces. He laid them on the table, and putting his finger on one, said: This one I am going to give to the heathen, and the other one I am going to keep myself." He played with them awhile, till finally one of them rolled away and he could not find it. "Well," said I, "my lad, which one have you lost?" "Oh," said he, "I have last the one I was going to give to the heathen."

A little girl came into my house one say, and some apple parings lay on a late on the table. After sitting awhile

she satu:
"I smell apples!"
"Yes," I replied, "I guess you smell
those apple parings on the plate,"
"No! no!" said she, "Tain't them I smell; I smell whole apples!"

"Yes," I replied, "I guess you smell those apple parings on the plate,"
"No! no!" said ahe, "Tain't them I smell; I smell whole apples!"

But Blackneavy Business—Hull & Linn, merchants of Benton's Ferry, have been doing an extensive business in the blackberry trade this season. On Morday, July 10th, their purchases amounted to 148 gallons; Tuesday, 144; gallons; Wednesday, 211 gallons; and the whole amount during the week was 811; gallons. We call that heavy for high.—West Firpinian.

A very smart boy on his return from college attempted to prove that two were equal to three. Pointing to a roasted chicken on the table, he said, "Is not that one?" and then pointing to another, "4.
